XAVIER HOMERO LOPEZ

Xavier was a Holy Cross Man. He attended Holy Cross from eighth grade through his senior year. Xavier began his matriculation with an academic scholarship. During his time at Holy Cross, he took part in football, track, and varsity basketball in which he lettered. His interest in student government led to his candidacy, and election to various class offices. He graduated from Holy Cross as a member of the class of 1974. Xavier attended St. Stephen's and St. John Berchmans' Elementary Schools. His college experience included San Antonio College, St. Mary's University, and the University of Texas Health Science Center. He was known for having many friends, being able to play the guitar well, and for his love of high quality stereo equipment. At the time of his death in 1980, at the age of 24, as the result of a traffic accident, he was a premed student at St. Mary's University and the University of Texas Health Science Center. His family, with the sanction of the administration of Holy Cross High School, began the endowment of a scholarship for Seniors of Holy Cross to honor his promising life. Xavier's legacy includes his two children, Harmony and Brian, who live in Texas. He also has four grandchildren.
